

Beta Reader Agreement

I, _____, have read the terms and conditions and agree to abide by all those listed herein. I understand this is not a paid position and I have no claim to any of the intellectual property pertaining to Stephen Burckhardt's social media or any publication by Stephen Burckhardt or Dianne Burckhardt.

Beta Reader Terms and Conditions:

1. You cannot share, copy, distribute, reproduce, or alter the pages shared with you. All rights will forever remain with Stephen Burckhardt and Dianne Burckhardt in perpetuity. Should you do any of the aforementioned actions, your position as beta reader will be instantly terminated and you forfeit your rights to all benefits and claims. You will be blocked from all media associated with Stephen Burckhardt and Dianne Burckhardt. If your actions result in lost income for the author and/or the publisher, action may be taken to reclaim lost income including but not limited to arbitration by a third party.
2. You must agree to read and review the files sent to you in a timely manner. Stephen Burckhardt and Dianne Burckhardt will be working on a very strict timeline for the Into the West Saga Serial and will need your reviews back within 10 days of receiving the pages. If you do not meet this deadline, you will receive one warning. If your review is not returned within three days of the warning, your position as beta reader will be terminated. If your feedback is not constructive or beneficial, your position as beta reader can be terminated without notice.
3. If your position as beta reader is terminated before the book has been completed or put on sale, you forfeit your rights to any and all benefits, including but not limited to acknowledgements, copies of the book, and gifts.
4. You agree that any comments you make within the feedback you submit to Stephen Burckhardt or Dianne Burckhardt regarding any creative works that have been presented to you for review become property of Stephen Burckhardt and Dianne Burckhardt. Your comments can be used in perpetuity regardless of the status of your position as beta reader. These comments can be used without further compensation for any promotional endeavors including but not limited to: future book covers, press releases, promotional materials, and advertising.
5. You understand beta reader is not a paid position. If you are chosen to be a beta reader, any and all gifts, acknowledgements, or promotional materials you receive from this series is solely at the discretion of the author. For beta readers in good standing, the intention is to give credit in the acknowledgements of the particular book the beta reader reviewed and a free PDF copy of that book when it is published. Additional gifts may be given out at the author's discretion (dependent on author's available resources) but are not guaranteed. The author and/or publisher are in no way, shape, or form liable for remunerations not given to beta readers.
6. Stephen Burckhardt reserves the rights to update or change these terms and conditions as needed without prior notice.
